

Never Blame or Accuse God for Anything

Some people prefer to be spiritually irresponsible and lazy by blaming God for their problems and ailments instead of blaming themselves. But it is never God's fault if someone doesn't get healed, or if someone doesn't get their prayer answered. The blame should always be on us, and not on God. Never, ever, ever, ever blame God for anything. God is good, and He's never bad. The LORD is good to all... Psalm 145:9

Satan is always bad, and he's never good. God gives, and Satan steals (James 1:17, John 10:10). If Job could have read the book of Job, he would have found out that it was Satan who smote him with sore boils and not God (Job 2:7). Then, Job never would have said ...the LORD gave, and the LORD hath taken away... (Job 1:21). The more one gets in the Word, the more revelation they're going to receive about who Satan really is, and what he really does.

People Have Always Unfairly Blamed, Accused & Lied about God

People today blame God for things the same way that people in the Bible blamed God.

1. In Numbers 14:3, God's people, the Israelites, falsely accused God of bringing them out to the wilderness to die, but that was a lie! And wherefore hath the LORD brought us unto this land, to fall by the sword, that our wives and our children should be a prey? were it not better for us to return into Egypt?

*- But the real truth is found in verses 6-8, NKJV: Two of the men who had explored the land, Joshua son of Nun and Caleb son of Jephunneh ...said to the community of Israel, "The land we explored is a wonderful land! And if the Lord is pleased with us, he will bring us safely into that land and give it to us. It is a rich land flowing with milk and honey, and he will give it to us!..."

2. The Pharisees lied about Jesus in Matthew 12:24: But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils.

*-But the real truth is found in Matthew 8:16: When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick:

3. And the man with one talent lied about God in Matthew 25:24: Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:

*-But the truth is that the Lord is not a hard man; He's full of compassion and mercy, as it says in Psalm 86:15: But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, longsuffering and plenteous in mercy and truth.

Truth is only Perceived Through God's Word

That's why you're taught in the Word of God to rightly divide the Word of truth (2 Timothy 2:15). We are never to base our faith on people's experiences or opinions: not ours, nor anyone else's. We base our faith and belief on the written Word of God. So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God. Romans 10:17

Thank God, when Jesus came, He showed us the Father God, because He was the express image of God: God...[has] spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds; Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high; Heb. 1:1-3

...he that hath seen me hath seen the Father... John 14:9

Jesus never made one person sick, Jesus never killed one baby, Jesus never destroyed one home or one marriage, and Jesus never told one single person that it wasn't God's will to heal them, or that God was getting glory out of their being sick. Not once in Jesus' life did He ever tell one sick person, 'You'll have to keep your sickness a little longer. God is working something out in your life.' If you think it's God's will that you be sick, you will never resist the sickness (James 4:7). Just as you have to resist sin, you have to resist sickness and disease. And, you have to resist strongly and boldly.

I spent much of my life sick, but when I got born again, and heard 1 Peter 2:24 for the first time in my life, I was thrilled, and I was angry. I was thrilled to find out God wanted me healed and whole, and mad because it took so long before I found out about it! I learned if I wanted to get healed and walk in health, I'm going to have to get into God's Word and get God's Word into me, and I'm going to have to do it day and night.

If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you. John 15:7

This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success. Joshua 1:8

My son, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my sayings. Let them not depart from thine eyes; keep them in the midst of thine heart. For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh. Proverbs 4:20-22

It's really YOUR Fault...

God wants us to know from His Word that not everything that goes on in this world is necessarily His will. It is scripturally incorrect to say that God is in control of everything. It is incorrect to say that everything that happens in your life is due to the sovereignty of God, and it is scripturally incorrect to say that everything that happens in your life is God's will.

Christians who believe in the sovereignty of God as being the answer to everything they can't understand are also the Christians who don't resist the devil, or acknowledge him as the one who comes to steal, kill and destroy (John 10:10).

You're wrong to blame God for anything, and you're also wrong to put the blame on Satan for everything. You are the one who must take the responsibility for your life and your actions. Wrong decisions and choices that one makes are never God's fault, nor Satan's, although Satan influences people to do wrong things. A believer must take the responsibility for their life and face up to the truth, and quit blaming God for everything that happens to them.

Some Christians will never acknowledge that they've had a faith failure. They act as though they're never wrong. They aren't known for admitting that they're wrong, and usually, the last thing they ever want to do is apologize for being wrong. Don't ever blame God that you failed to receive your miracle from Him, and never blame Him for any kind of loss in your life!

You have to recognize your shortcomings and deal with them. The sooner you acknowledge you've got a problem in some area of your life, the sooner you can deal with it by using God's Word.

People who have a pride issue (I'm talking about Christians) are adamant in believing that everything that happens in their life was God's will. These people usually hate the faith message and they're vehemently against confessing God's Word, because they don't want to take responsibility for what happens to them.

The Believer's Objective

As a believer, you're to hate pride, because God does. You're to look for pride and other things God hates in your life so you can eliminate them. These six things doth the LORD hate: yea, seven are an abomination unto him: A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, An heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, A false witness that speaketh lies, and he that soweth discord among brethren. Proverbs 6:16-19

Never blame God for unanswered prayers. Instead, be quick to say what God's Word says about you. Whatever God says you are in His Word, you say you are from His Word, and based on His Word. Your whole objective in life is to please your Father God, give no place to sin in your life, and any time you find something in your life that is contrary to the Word, you immediately take the Word and attack the area of your life that is in rebelliousness.

Some Christians are so prideful that they never admit that they prayed for something and failed to receive it from God. They'll never admit that they've had faith failures or that they were too lazy to get in the Word and get themselves built up spiritually. They've adopted the belief that God is sovereign, so everything that happens is God's will, because God is in control of everything.

When a Christian is taught the Word of faith, but they refuse to apply it to their life, the primary reason is usually that they don't want to take responsibility for the outcome of their life. These are the "sick for the glory of God" people. They think they're always right and never wrong. But know this: any Christian who turns their back on the Word of faith is always a person who's too lazy to do their spiritual work (such as reading their faith confessions out loud every day).

These are individuals who would rather pray about something than take authority over the devil in Jesus' Name (Luke 10:19, Mark 16:17,18). Why is this? If they pray about something and nothing happens, they can use the excuse that it wasn't God's will. They'd rather blame the outcome on God and save face, instead of taking the blame themselves. But that's being spiritually irresponsible!

Remember, God wishes above all things that you prosper and be in health, even as your soul prospers (3 John 2).
